Nixon's Plan to Strip OEO Draws Attack But Appears in No Danger

By RICHARD E. MEYER
Associated Press Writer
CORONADO, Calif. (AP) — Pueblo crewmen, in telling about their 11-month imprisonment and brutal treatment by North Koreans, frequently have described Quartermaster I.C. Charles B. Law as a tower of strength and a natural leader of men.

"Law probably demonstrated the finest qualities of petty officer leadership I've ever seen," Lt. J.G. Frederick Schumacher Jr., the ship's operations officer, testified.

"Law was in charge of the enlisted men," said Lt. (jg.) Timothy Harris, supply officer. "The way he conducted himself was outstanding." Law, 27, of Chehalis, Wash., was called to tell his own story today to the Navy court of inquiry investigating the intelligence ship's seizure and the conduct of its crew as prisoners.

The court may recommend anything from courts-martial to medals.

Law relayed information from the officers—each held in a separate room—to the enlisted men, who were held from four to eight to a room, in two compounds near Pyongyang.

Harris told the court "Anytime anything went wrong the Koreans blamed Law. He took the brunt of the punishment. He was the contact between the officers and the enlisted men."

Law was married here last week to a San Diego secretary, Marie L. Cherry. He met her at a party last December shortly after the crew was freed. The Pueblo was captured off North Korea in January 1968.

Law told a news conference shortly after his return he was struck at least 25 times by the North Koreans with fists and boards.

WASHINGTON (AP) — A leading congressional anti-poverty warrior has attacked President Nixon's plan to remove two key agencies from the Office of Economic Opportunity. But despite the harsh words, the administration's program appears in no danger.

Chairman Carl D. Perkins of the House Education and Labor Committee said the administration plan to shift OEO's show-case Head Start and Job Corps programs to other agencies was a "tragic mistake."

Another House source said that by taking away OEO's most dramatic and appealing programs "we simply won't have the goodies to get the votes" if it comes to a showdown next year on whether to wipe out the anti-poverty agency altogether.

Wisconsin Democrat Gaylord Nelson said that the programs handled by OEO covered only 10 per cent of the government's over-all poverty attack.

"We need some kind of new job creation program, fitted into a comprehensive manpower policy," Nelson said in a favorable reaction to Nixon's plan.

The Wisconsin senator is the new chairman of the Senate subcommittee on employment, manpower and poverty which handles OEO legislation.

Nixon announced Wednesday he would keep OEO alive—but would turn Head Start and the Job Corps over to old-line departments.

Both Democrats and Republicans at the Capitol praised the message although there were dissenters besides Perkins.

Some Democrats said they felt it marked a considerable retreat from GOP statements in the 1968 campaign that OEO should be downgraded or abolished.

ished. If it would be possible for the Congress to reverse Nixon's order delegating Head Start and Job Corps to the Health, Education and Welfare and Labor Departments respectively, but this seemed unlikely.

"I think we could get a bill out of committee," said one source. "But I don't know what would happen now on the floor. And anyway, with a one-year extension you'd be right back in the same boat next year."

Loss of Head Start and the Job Corps will remove from OEO about half its $2-billion annual budget. Nixon, in his message to Congress, said he wanted OEO to remain as an "incubator" for new and innovative programs.

tionary court. The government radio said two were soldiers, and they were shot by firing squads, while five civilians were hanged at Baghdad's central prison.

A third soldier also was sentenced to death in the broadcast said, but his sentence was commuted to life imprisonment by President Ahmed Hassan al-Bakr because he "helped authorities uncover the detailed activities of the ring."

The court said the eight men had collected information about Iraq's air force bases and radar screens and communicated them to Israel through a non-commissioned officer who is still at large. He was said to have headed the group.

approve the five-cent increase on cigarettes since the upper chamber has already amended its version of the bill to reduce the tax to three cents.

Sen. Jim Caldwell of Rogers, who is handling the administration proposal, said he had agreed to the two-cent reduction because he did not have enough support to pass the bill that would increase the tax from eight cents per pack to 13 cents.

Some lawmakers contend that the cigarette wholesalers and retailers deserve to make some profit out of the increase but proponents of the nickel measure say the industry gained a substantial increase in 1965.

Four years ago the legislature increased the tax on cigarettes from six to eight cents per package and within months the price of cigarettes went up five cents in all vending machines and in most over-the-counter sales.

The first vote on the cigarette bill Wednesday was 72-20 with 75 votes needed for passage. The Pulaski-Perry county delegation, sponsors of the bills, quickly got the House to expunge the vote and then passed the other measures before finally passing the cigarette tax increase 77-14.

The vote on the cigar tax bill was 89-4 and the vote on the other measure was 70-23. Rep. Boyce Alford of Pine Bluff led the opposition to the bills, speaking against them before each vote.

Offshore Oil, Sales, Leases Called Off

By STAN BENJAMIN
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of the Interior Walter J. Hickel, in his third action of the week aimed at preventing another "Santa Barbara tragedy," today called off the sale of offshore oil and gas leases.

The sale of 27 Gulfcoast tracts that could have brought the government millions of dollars, was scheduled for next Tuesday and was the only such sale of federal offshore leases imminent.

Hickel said the sale would be postponed "until we are positive we have regulations which will prevent pollution such as the Santa Barbara tragedy."

He referred to the 11-day leak of a Union Oil Co. well which spread an 800-square-mile slick across the Santa Barbara channel off California before it was plugged Feb. 8.

Earlier this week, Hickel issued regulations holding oil companies responsible for cleanup and damage costs from any offshore-well pollution and proposed new and tighter regulations for drilling in the Santa Barbara channel.

Oil and gas leases along the Gulf of Mexico coastline already have brought the Interior Department close to $200 million in bonus bids.

Sixteen tracts were leased Nov. 19, 1968 for a total of $150 million in bonuses, followed by another 20 tracts for $44 million Jan. 14.

Preliminary steps have been taken toward the possible leasing late this year of areas off Alaska, but that sale has not yet been definitely scheduled.

Announcing the latest move, Hickel said, "We have postponed the Gulf Coast sale as another step in the exhaustive review being conducted into all aspects of federal offshore drilling and production."

"Consequently, any bids received for the Louisiana tracts will be returned to the sender unopened."

"In announcing this postponement," he added, "I again declare that monetary considerations must not be allowed to obstruct consideration of what is best to protect the environment in which we live."

Says Sirhan Composed, Peaceful

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Author George Plimpton says he lacked the courage to look at dying Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, but instead lunged against the senator's assailant—a man he describes as "composed and peaceful."

"My eyes were solely on the hand of the defendant which had the gun," Plimpton testified Wednesday at the trial of Sirhan Bishara Sirhan, charged with Kennedy's murder.

"He struck me as enormously composed," Plimpton said of the young Jordanian who has been pictured as disturbed with Kennedy for supporting Israel. The senator was felled shortly after midnight last June 5 in the flush of his California presidential primary victory.

"The rest of us, given this sudden tragedy, were not composed," said Plimpton of Sirhan. "He seemed almost like the eye in the center of a hurricane, composed and peaceful."

One of the 16 prosecution witnesses who described the chaotic scene when Kennedy and five others were shot in the Ambassador Hotel pantry, Plimpton's account was perhaps the most dramatic. Although he was called by the prosecution, his testimony lent support to the defense contention that shooting debate. On the contrary, said a Pentagon officer, "We're always being pushed into a corner by the Fulbrights and others."

A congressional source normally sensitive to military pressure or inroads said, "I don't think senators regard them in the usual sense as lobbyists but really just as members of the services helping with the mail." If a congressman or senator asks the Pentagon for information on a military issue—as in the debate over the Sentinel anti-ballistic missile system—he gets it—along with material gave Sirhan "a strange sense of release."

Plimpton said he flung himself at Sirhan, pinning him against a steam table. Others piled on at the same time—former football player Roosevelt Grier, decathlon champion Rafter Johnson and Kennedy advance man Jack Gallivan.

Sirhan was still firing at that time.

On cross examination, defense attorney Emile Zola Berman asked: "Was it an easy task to get the gun away from him?"

A. No. Because, as I say, there were so many hands... Q. Didn't he show great strength?

A. I think it surprised us that we couldn't get the gun so easily.

Later, Plimpton said, "he was very strong for such a small man."

supporting the Defense Department's view.

"It would be silly to say we don't give them material that supports the secretary's decision," said Marine Brig. Gen. James F. Lawrence, deputy assistant to the secretary of defense for legislative affairs.

Each service—Army, Air Force and Navy and Marine Corps—has its own legislative organization, but they work under the general supervision of a veteran Pentagon lawyer, Jack L. Stempley, assistant to the secretary of defense for legislative affairs.

The average number of persons working on legislative activities, according to the Pentagon's appropriation requests for fiscal 1970, are 140 military and 199 civilian at a total cost, principally pay and allowances, of $4,134,911 a year.

They work at congressional liaison with individual members, with committees considering appropriations or holding hearings, and with committees involved in investigations.

The military information centers are staffed by 30 employees, primarily to deal with inquiries bucked to them by congressional offices.

He estimated that the Pentagon's legislative affairs people answer 400,000 written and 500,000 telephoned inquiries in a year.

SON: M. K. Douglas

By JOAN CROSBY
NEA Entertainment Editor

NEW YORK—(NEA)—By the time M. K. Douglas got around to his acting career, all the good names like Kirk Douglas and Mike Douglas were taken.

So Michael Kirk Douglas had to become M. K. Douglas which, he says, "makes me sound like an old character actor. I had an idea one time of using my father's old name, Ivan Danielovich, but I decided that sounded pretentious."

"Father" is Kirk Douglas. Mike, as his friends call him, is making his professional acting debut on TV in the CBS Playhouse original drama, "The Experiment," set for Feb. 25.

He has the ability to make a career no matter who his father might have been. But he admits that having a father who is famous in show business makes it much easier to get started.

"The only reason it's harder is you have a hang-up with yourself," this handsome, frank 24-year-old says.

He has worked out his personal problems, which were at their peak when he was attending the University of California at Santa Barbara. "I had a lot of different

Television and Radio

NEW YORK (AP) — The awards program of the Academy of Professional Sports Wednesday night on NBC kicked off the statue-giving season with something that looked like an alarming innovation: The sponsor ran a commercial between each category.

However, after dropping in four during the first half hour of the live show, the pace slowed to only two during the second half.

Since there were but six professional sports involved, the lavish lacing of sponsor messages was only mildly interruptive and annoying. It would be a real hardship for viewers if the practice spread to the Oscar or Emmy shows where there are wholesale categories.

The professional sports awards held for the average viewer the same appeal as the movie and TV awards shows—a chance to see the stars in action. It was amusing to note that most of the acceptance speeches of basketball, football and hockey stars sounded exactly like those of the movie and TV stars—they thanked their teams, without whom they never would have made it.

Jockey Johnny Longden, accepting the horse racing award for absent winner Angel Cordeiro, drew one of the evening's biggest laughs when he thanked the horses, without whom the jockey could not have made it.

Perry Como was the easy-mannered host. The program started out at a very leisurely pace. At one point, Jack Benny and Sam Snead were involved in a long golf story. In fact it went along so casually that most of the final 20 minutes moved at a gallop in order to leave time for the final commercial and get off the air on time.

Denny McLain of baseball's Detroit Tigers was elected professional Athlete of the Year as well as top player in the American League.

Bob Gibson of the St. Louis Cardinals won the National League nod. In football, it was Joe Namath of the New York Jets for the AFL and Earl Morrall of the Baltimore Colts for the NFL. Billy Casper was picked for golf; Wes Unseld of the Baltimore Bullets for basketball and Bobby Hull of the Chicago Blackhawks for hockey.

The winners were elected by their colleagues and competitors except for the athlete of the year, who was voted by sports writers.

a decade, with his own show, his specials (the latest of which, Looking Back, is set for CBS-TV on February 20) and two spin-off series. Gouner Pyle U.S.M.C. and Mayberry R.F.D.

However, Mike Dann, the vice-president in charge of the network's programming, has trouble with Andy's name.

Andy loves to tell this story:

"One day I was coming out of CBS in New York and I heard someone say, 'Hi, I turned, and there was Dann. When we left the building, there were some kids waiting, so he offered me a lift in his car. We spent 20 minutes talking about Mayberry, and he said, 'I'll tell you something. I would rather work with your company and guys like Dick Linke and Bob Ross and you, Merv, than anyone else. He got everybody's name right, but through the entire conversation he kept calling me Merv.'"

Andy was very pleased with Looking Back, which was based on an idea he had been working on for three years. And he has hopes for his film, "Angel in My Pocket."

"It's a picture," he says, "you can finally take the whole family to see."

Next on his schedule: a film with Don Knotts called "Me and My Shadow."

"Lew Wasserman (the head of MCA) didn't want us to work together," Andy says, "because he figured he could make more with us separately. But we talked him into it."

Andy's contract with CBS calls for an annual special for three years. "But I hope I don't do just three specials

Deadlock Deepens in Peace Talks

By STEPHENS BROENING
Associated Press Writer
PARIS (AP) — The Viet Cong opened the fifth session of the enlarged Vietnam peace talks today with a renewal of its demand that the United States get out of South Vietnam unconditionally.

Tran Buu Kiem, chief of the National Liberation Front delegation, declared that the United States "must end its war of aggression, unconditionally withdraw all their troops and those of their satellites," and permit a South Vietnamese settlement "according to the political program" of the NLF.

Only this way, he said, can Vietnamese problems be settled "correctly."

There was nothing new in Kiem's statement except an escalation in name-calling. The NLF delegate compared the United States unfavorably with the former Fascist regimes of Germany, Italy and Japan, and again heaped scorn on the "puppet Saigon administration."

Kiem said the NLF would never stop fighting as long as the Americans continue "aggression" and the Saigon regime continues as a "lackey" of the United States. Again he spurned "so-called concrete proposals" by the United States to make military de-escalation as a primary order of conference business.

U.S. delegate Henry Cabot Lodge planned to challenge the other side to seek some form of agreement on interpretation of the 1954 Geneva accords which ended the French war in Indochina.

As he left the U.S. Embassy for the session, Lodge noted that last week the North Vietnamese and the NLF had discussed their positions on the 1954 agreements.

"So today," Lodge said, "I am going to state the U.S. position on the essential elements of these accords, and the part which we think they can play in a future settlement. We hope and believe it is useful for each side to set forth its position on various matters."

South Vietnamese Ambassador Pham Dang Lam went into the meeting with a long speech calling on Hanoi and the NLF to present serious counter proposals.

The ruling came at the end of a four-hour hearing—with the jury out of the courtroom—on prosecution evidence involving Patrolman Aloysius Habighorst.

Habighorst testified that when he fingerprinted Shaw on March 1, 1967, he asked Shaw if he used any alias and Shaw replied: "Clay Bertrand."

The judge's ruling was based on the ground that police Capt. Louis Cuore refused to let Shaw's lawyer accompany him to the Bureau of Identification room where he was fingerprinted.

Cuore's action violated Shaw's constitutional rights, Haggerty added, because "no policeman has the right to tell an attorney he cannot be with his client at any time."

Habighorst was the second witness of the day on the "Bertrand" issue, Mrs. Jesse Parker testified earlier that Shaw signed the guest book at the New International Airport's VIP room as Clay Bertrand on Dec. 14, 1966.

He said he signed the fingerprint record card when it was blank after being told that was the necessary procedure. He said he was not asked a single question.

Testimony of Officer Is Barred

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Dist. Atty. Jim Garrison's prosecution team rested its case in Clay Shaw's conspiracy trial today after the Louisiana Supreme Court rejected a state appeal and refused to intervene in the case. The defense then asked that the jury be removed from the courtroom so Shaw's attorneys could make a motion.

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — A policeman's testimony has been barred from Clay Shaw's trial on a charge of conspiring to assassinate President John F. Kennedy.

Criminal Dist. Court Judge Edward A. Haggerty's ruling Wednesday brought Asst. Dist. Atty. James L. Alcock up to demand, in a voice trembling with anger, that a mistrial be declared.

Pilot Told Class About Human Love

WICHITA, Kan. (AP) — "War is all the horrible things a human being can do to another human being because he has not learned to love..."

These were the words of Air Force Maj. Victor Colasuonno in answer to a query from the fourth grade class at Church of the Magdalen Catholic School here, of which his son, Kenneth, is a member.

Major Colasuonno, a pilot, was killed in action last week in Vietnam where he had been assigned since June. Services were held here Wednesday.

While in Vietnam he had written regularly to the school where his three sons, Kenneth, Bobby and Stephen, and daughter Patricia attend. Colasuonno was stationed at McConnell Air Force Base here before going to Vietnam.

Has Idea on Curbing Inflation

By STERLING F. GREEN
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Labor George P. Shultz said today there is "substantial evidence" that inflation can be curbed without marked increase in unemployment.

Shultz told the joint House-Senate Economic Committee that foremost among the factors supporting this belief is the administration's aim to work gradually—not abruptly—to reduce inflation.

"Our aim is not to achieve a zero price rise this year," he said in prepared testimony. "This could not occur short of a sizeable recession."

Shultz said the other two factors are a growing proportion of workers now employed in industries not affected by seasonal or other periodic layoffs and an increasing variety of manpower programs.

The labor secretary added, however, that there is a need for focusing manpower programs on Negro youth which he said have the most serious employment problems over the past decade.

Shultz was the first high administration official to appear before the committee not strictly finance oriented. The committee opened hearings Monday on economic issues facing the nation.

After eight witnesses ranging from members of the Council of Economic Advisers to Treasury Secretary David Kennedy, Democratic committee members were showing irritation at what they consider vague tentative and sometimes unresponsive answers from high Nixon administration officials on policy questions.

The vice chairman, Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., said Wednesday after hearing cautious testimony from Kennedy: "I am disappointed that officials of this administration have taken President Nixon's inaugural warnings so literally. He advised the people to lower their voices."

"Your answers are so low, in terms of substance, that we can hardly hear them."

Kennedy had declined — on grounds that the problems needed more study — to say whether he thought there could be deep spending cuts, he favored curbs on one-bank holding companies, or favored repeal of the 7 per cent investment credit.

The Treasury chief also said the administration "has reached no final decision" on extending the 10 per cent surtax beyond its scheduled June 30 expiration date. This undercut the Tuesday testimony of Budget Director Robert P. Mayo, most forthright of the administration witnesses to date.

Mayo said: "Our administration's current position is to support the proposed extension of the surcharge."

Miami Pulls Away From Challengers

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The Miami Floridians are not exactly pulling away in the bunched Eastern Division race of the American Basketball Association, but they are putting some daylight between them and three challengers.

The Floridians edged 1½ games ahead of idle second place Minnesota with a 119-115 squeaker over Kentucky Wednesday night, dropping the Colonials into fourth place 2½ games back. Idle Indiana moved up to third, two games behind.

In other games New Orleans downed Houston 112-107 and Los Angeles edged Dallas 116-114.

New York 110-100, San Francisco stopped Philadelphia 134-117 and Detroit defeated Seattle 131-124.

The Floridians had a rough time putting some space between themselves and Kentucky, pulling ahead 114-112 on field goals by Skip Thoren and Don Sidle. A hook by Thoren then put the game out of reach and Don Freeman added two free throws.

Sidle finished with 26 points, Freeman 25, Louie Dampier had 21 for Kentucky.

New Orleans also came from behind late in the game, taking a 101-99 lead on Lee Davis' two three throws with 6:01 left. Steve Jones paced the Bucs with 25 points and James Jones added 24.

Los Angeles overcame a nine-point deficit with slightly more than three minutes to play against Dallas.

With 18 seconds left, the Stars trailed by two points when Merv Jackson connected on a stuff shot and was fouled. He converted the free throw for a three-point play to give Los Angeles the lead for good 115-114.

Jackson's 27 points topped the Stars, who moved within two games of fourth-place Dallas in the Western Division. Cincy Powell was the high Chaparral with 29.

Double Task for Laird in Treaty Plea

By ROBERT T. GRAY
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird was handed the double task today of urging prompt ratification of the nuclear nonproliferation treaty while defending the administration's apparent intention to press ahead with atomic missile defenses.

Osensibly, Laird and Gen. Earle C. Wheeler, chairman of the joint chiefs of staff were called before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee to present the administration case for approval of the treaty.

But it was clear from questioning of Secretary of State William P. Rogers Tuesday that critics of the Sentinel missile defense system consider the hearings a forum to advance their cause.

The critics of the Sentinel, which would use nuclear-armed missiles to destroy incoming enemy missiles, argue its deployment would conflict with the treaty's provision for negotiations on nuclear disarmament.

They cited Article VI of the nonproliferation treaty, which calls for negotiations leading eventually to general disarmament.

The critics argue the administration should at least try to enter into negotiations with the Soviet Union on missile disarmament before proceeding with the

Nixon Wants to Meet Man in Street

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon plans to go beyond the palaces and ministries to the man-on-the-street to get a feeling of all the peoples thinking during his European tour.

In addition to the some 50 hours of official conferences in London, Bonn, Paris and Rome, Nixon has asked to see small groups of citizens who can provide him with a sampling of their opinion to go along with the official views he will be hearing.

"We want people who will talk to the President and who will give him some feel of what people in the country are thinking about and talking about," a White House official said. "He wants off the record meetings in order to encourage these people to talk with him."

Nixon leaves early Sunday for Brussels, first stop on an eight day mission which takes him on to London, Bonn, Berlin, Rome, Paris and then back to Rome.

He returns to the United States March 2.

The schedule is crowded with conferences, ceremonies, working dinners, and a period set aside each day for the conduct of normal White House business.

The citizen sessions are an innovation and a White House official admits to some misgivings about the guest list—whether Nixon will really get the cross section he seeks.

The selections are being made by U.S. embassies and a Nixon aide said the President would like to see people ranging from working men to philosophers.

Most of the meetings will bring eight to 15 people to see the President for about an hour.

"It's a room full of comfortable chairs and cups of coffee," an official said. "The President will come in and encourage conversation. That's as much formal as there is."

The format for Nixon's public travels is one of pomp and ceremony guided by the protocol of the nation involved. But a White House official said that even the formal dinners, most of them stag affairs, will be working sessions.

Fairview Wants to Wrap Up Title

By RALPH ROUNTON
Star Sports Writer

Basketball's big week for this area started yesterday, with action in tournaments at Prescott, Lewisville, and Magnolia.

And, of course, the highlight comes tomorrow night when the unbeaten Fairview Cardinals visit Jones Field House to try to wrap up another 4-AA West title against the Hope Bobcats. The preliminary "B" team game starts at 6:30 p.m.

District 7-A's Championships began last night in Prescott, and second-seeded Mena rolled to the semifinals with a 61-63 trouncing of the Gurdon Go-Devis in the second game. The Bearcats, now 20-4, play the winner of the Nashville—Ashdown game at 7:00 p.m. tomorrow night.

In other games at Prescott, Arkadelphia Peake overcame a seven-point halftime deficit to trip the Hope Yegger Tigers 56-50. Yegger had led by as much as 28-19 early in the second half, before fouls and costly turnovers switched the momentum.

Then the Prescott Curley Wolves clubbed DeQueen 82-61 in what was supposed to be a close game, and Prescott plays either Peake or Magnolia Columbia at 8:30 tomorrow night.

Region 4-AA is being well represented in the State AA Junior Boys meet this week at Magnolia, as Fairview, Smackover, and Magnolia also won their way into the quarterfinals with victories yesterday.

Fairview, 4-AA champion, slapped Greene County Tech 49-37, while Smackover and Magnolia scored close wins over Forrest City and Helena. This tournament will continue through Saturday, and Fairview is the top seed in the field, with top competition from Harrison of 1-AA.

First Round in Lewisville Tournament

First round results in the Senior Girls Class B Tournament now in progress at Lewisville: Hector 35-Bradford 33, Danville 41-Biggers 34, Parkin 40-Woodlawn 34, Prattville 61-Umpire 54, Miss. Co. 48-Viola 41, Portland 48-Leadhill 30, Bradley 60-St. Paul 42.

Bullets Take the Battle of Baskets

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The Los Angeles Lakers won the war of words but the Baltimore Bullets took the battle of the amazing Bullets survived a tongue-lashing from mountainous Wilt Chamberlain Wednesday night and shot down the Lakers 110-88. That increased their lead in the National Basketball Association's Eastern Division to four games over New York and 4½ over Philadelphia, both of which lost.

The Knicks dropped a 110-100 decision to Cincinnati while San Francisco blasted the 76ers 134-117. In the only other NBA game, Detroit downed Seattle 131-124.

Miami got by Kentucky 119-115, New Orleans tripped Houston 112-107 and Los Angeles nipped Dallas 116-114 in the ABA.

Chamberlain got his dander up when he thought a foul should have been called on Baltimore center Westley Unseld. He chewed Unseld out, but the big rookie never changed his expression and went on to out-rebound Wilt 22-21.

The Knicks, who had their 11-game winning streak snapped by Los Angeles Tuesday night, dropped two straight for the first time since Nov. 19-20. The 10-point setback was their biggest since Dec. 15. They had won 28 of 32 games before Tuesday and the four losses were by a total of nine points.

The Royals, who, like the Lakers, have taken four of five from the Knicks, raced to a 63-40 halftime lead and stayed on top within four points late in the game but Connie Dierking hit two clutch baskets.

Tom Van Arsdale scored 21 points and Oscar Robertson and Walt Wesley 19 apiece for the Royals. Walt Frazier paced the Knicks with 27.

San Francisco opened a 28-point lead over Philadelphia late in the first half and had no trouble with the 76ers. Jeff Mullins scored 28 points and Rudy LaRusso 24 to offset 32 by Philadelphia's Chet Walker.

Dave Bing scored 19 of his 30 points in the second half to spark the Pistons past Seattle. Happy Hairston helped out with 28 but Bob Rule of the Super-Sonics took game honors with 32.

extra $4.50 annually to finance the tutoring.

Chancellor Ivan Hinderaker said student leaders devised the plan. He called it "a significant step" toward bringing minority ethnic groups into society's mainstream.

Baseball Players Are Cracking

By MIKE RECHT
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — The major league players' boycott shows some signs of cracking, but not enough to keep their representatives from rejecting another pension offer from the club owners.

A number of name players, such as Pat Jarvis, Tom Seaver, Jerry Grote and George Scott, said Wednesday they would report to spring training.

And owner Francis Dole of the Cincinnati Reds says that's just the beginning.

"The real test of the players hasn't come yet," Dale said in Cincinnati. "I can tell you there are a lot of players signed and lot more ready to go. We really haven't tested (Marvin) Miller's control of his men."

That brought a response from Miller, the executive director of the Major League Players Association. "This proves it is all a stalling tactic to try to break the Association wide open," Miller said in New York.

Earlier in the day the player representatives had overwhelmingly turned down the latest proposal by the owners to hike the pension $1.2 million to $5.3 million.

The players had rejected a previous $1 million increase by a big margin and Dick Moss, counsel for the Association, said player representatives did not think the new offer significant enough to submit to the membership.

The Association is asking a $6.5 million pension package. Moss also said a few players were expected to report to spring training, but reaffirmed the Association belief that the great majority of players, including the big stars, would not sign contracts or report until the dispute is settled.

But among those who were signed up today was Jarvis, Atlanta's top pitcher last season with a 16-12 record. Knucklebatter Phil Niekro, another Braves' starter, indicated he might report within the next few days.

However, Braves' slugger Hank Aaron stuck with the boycott.

"It's the principle of the thing," he said. "I can't sign until it is settled. These are the people I play with."

Obviously Bucks Want Alcindor

By BOB GREENE
Associated Press Sports Writer
MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — The Milwaukee Bucks won't pass up Lew Alcindor, but they hope they won't be in the running for the UCLA star.

"Obviously, we would be interested in Alcindor," Wes Pavalon, chairman of the board of the Milwaukee Bucks, said Wednesday night.

"But the way the Bucks have been playing of late, we may not even be in a position to draft him."

Milwaukee is last in the Eastern Division of the National Basketball Association race with a 19-45 record. Phoenix, at 14-49, is the bottom club in the West.

In the draft, "the last place teams in each division of the NBA participate in a flip of a coin to determine which has first selection in the 1969 college draft," said Walter Kennedy, NBA commissioner.

The Explorers of La Salle aren't going to any post-season tournaments but they'll probably win a championship anyway.

By trouncing eighth-ranked Duquesne 85-71 Wednesday night, the fourth-rated Explorers staked a big claim for the Eastern college basketball crown. But they're under NCAA suspension so their season will end after games against Detroit on Friday and West Chester next Tuesday.

Three other Top Ten teams were in action and all had to struggle to win. Third-ranked North Carolina squeaked by Maryland 88-86 on Rusty Clark's tap-in with two seconds left, fifth-rated Davidson turned back Duke 88-80 in overtime and No. 7 St. John's came from behind in the final five minutes to beat Syracuse 71-63.

La Salle used its speed to nullify Duquesne's towering front court of Barry and Carry Nelson and Gary Majors, all of whom stand 6-foot-9. And Roland Taylor disrupted the Dukes' attack by hounding Bill Zopf, who directs it.

North Carolina's victory over upstart Maryland moved the Tar Heels back into undisputed possession of first place in the Atlantic Coast Conference, breaking a tie with 12th-ranked South Carolina, which defeated Furman 63-53 in a non-league game.

Maryland raced to a 28-8 lead during the first 13 minutes and the Tar Heels couldn't catch up until Charlie Scott put them ahead 57-56 more than five minutes into the second half. The teams then battled through six ties and as many lead changes before Clark's dramatic gamewinner.

Davidson had to make up five points in the final 1:25 to send its game with Duke into overtime.

A 20-foot jump shot by Dick DeVenzo, who scored 28 points, had given Duke an 80-79 lead with seven seconds left in regulation time. But Mike Maloy's free throw knotted the score and Davidson outscored the Blue Devils 8-0 in the overtime period.

St. John's went on a 15-5 tear in the final five minutes to hold off stubborn Syracuse and the Orangemen's 6-11 center, Bill Smith, who had 24 points and 15 rebounds. John Warren paced the Redmen with 20.

Elsewhere, Cincinnati reeled off 22 straight points over an eight-minute stretch of the first half and smothered Dayton 96-60. Larry Lewis had 24 points and 21 rebounds to lead St. Francis of Pennsylvania to a 77-66 triumph over Canisius.

Youths Take Swing in Tucson Open

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — Golf's younger brigade takes another swing at the big money with the opening today of the $100,000 Tucson Golf Tournament.

Jack Ewing, Larry Ziegler, Jerry Abbott and Jim Wiechers were among those figuring prominently in the Phoenix Open last week and there are a host of others in the 144 player field to challenge the stars.

Still most of the interest here centers on Gene Littler, the tournament winner at Phoenix with 263 and leading money winner on the tour this year at $48,028 and defending champion George Knudson of Canada.

A year ago, Knudson won both at Phoenix and Tucson duplicating Littler's feat of 1959.

They play over the 7,305-yard Tucson National Golf Club course, a par 36-38—72 layout where Wednesday's pro-amateur run into foul weather problems.

Bill Ogden of Tucson and Bobby Mitchell of Danville, Va., set the pace among the individual pros with five-under-par 67s. Dave Stockton carded 68 while both Rod Funseth and Paul Hareney were at 69.

The pro-am team competition proved unusual. Terry Dill started with Tucson amateurs Chuck and Frank Osterman and Jim Watson. At the end of nine holes, Dill was forced to withdraw because of the weather and because he is recovering from a recent illness.

Terry Wilcox agreed to accompany the amateurs as a substitute pro but his score would not count. Dill had even par but the trio of amateurs finished 17 under at 55. They all had hefty handicaps. Frank Osterman at 18, his brother Chuck at 11 and Watson nine.

At Phoenix, Ewing, 24, of Bakersfield, Calif., carded rounds of 67-66-66-68-267. One stroke below the previous tournament record, but had to be content with a tie for fifth place and $3,633. Ziegler, 29, of Bonne Terry, Mo., was at 269. Abbott, 27, Boca Raton, Fla., and Wiechers, 24, of Atherton, Calif., each finished 270.

Veteran Billy Maxwell, who deadlocked for second place with Don January and Miller Barber, said of the new crop, "They're bigger, taller and can really hit the long ball."

New Records by Stock Car Driver

By F. T. MACFEELEY
DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (AP) — David Pearson, the world's fastest stock car driver, predicts race laps as good as the 190.029 miles an hour record he set Wednesday as the factory Ford and Dodge teams squared off in a pair of 125-milers this afternoon.

"There should be some 190 laps," the 34-year-old Spartanburg, S.C., veteran and NASCAR champion said. "When the fast cars start drafting, they'll get faster."

Pearson senses danger, however, in the tail-gating technique known to race drivers as drafting when speeds pass 190 m.p.h.

"We are right on the verge of spinning when we go through the turns by ourselves," Pearson said. "It's real tricky when you're drafting."

"In fact," he went on, "we have to back off the accelerator a bit on the straightaway when we're drafting."

Improved aerodynamics of the Ford Talladega and Dodge Charger 500 models this year are credited for higher speeds. Ford is using the same 427-cubic inch engine as last year with one four-barrel carburetor instead of two and still getting faster speeds.

"I figure the engine we're running now is about 75 horsepower short of the engine we ran here last year, but the car certainly handles a lot better," Pearson said.

Dodge Chargers driven by Buddy Baker of Charlotte, N.C.; Pete Hamilton of Dedham, Mass.; Bobby Isaac of Catawba, N.C., and Charlie Glotzbach of Georgetown, Ind., filled the front row starting spots in the 125-mile races.

Baker and Isaac also are guaranteed the front row in Sunday's Daytona 500 for the big slice of $206,000 posted awards. The rest of Sunday's line-up will be determined by the finishes of the 125-mile events.

Paul Goldsmith of Munster, Ind., who set a track record of 189.897 m.p.h. which lasted less than a week before Pearson broke it Wednesday, got his Dodge in fifth starting spot of today's second race.

The second-fastest Ford qualifier at 188.621, defending champ Cale Yarborough of Timmons-ville, S.C., got ninth starting spot in the first race. Pearson earned only 15th in the same event with his record speed.

Bobby Unser, Indianapolis 500 and U.S. Auto Club champion, rated 15th starter in the second race with 186.404 s.

Speed Weeks emphasis shifts to a new event Friday, when Mustangs, Camaros, Cougars, Javelins and Porsche 911s race over a 3.81-mile road and track course in the Florida Citrus 250 grand touring event.

Appearance of Clay at UA Is Protested

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — The scheduled appearance of Cassius Clay, former world heavyweight boxing champion, at the University of Arkansas has drawn criticism from the Pulaski Business Men's Association of Little Rock.

Clay, who took the name Muhammad Ali when he became a Black Muslim, was de-throned from his title when he refused induction into the Army.

Clay, who is scheduled to appear here March 12 with Floyd McKissack, head of the Congress of Racial Equality, was invited to the campus by the university's Student Government Association.

The fighter is one of a number of persons, including Sens. George McGovern, D - S.D., Charles Percy, R-Ill., and Edmund S. Muskie, D - Me., to speak at various times as part of "Symposium '69."

The 4-year-old, second choice in the wagering, returned $7.20, $2.80 and $2.80. Air Boat, the money favorite, returned $2.40 and $2.40. Nimble Sprite paid $4.20 to show.

Miss Behavin, winner of the first race, and Sweet Theo, a long shot and winner of the second race, combined to return a daily double of $126.20. The crowd of 7,920 wagered $638,364.

Good Way to Boost Spirits

WASHINGTON (AP) — Maxine Cheshire, Washington Post columnist, says Defense Secretary Melvin Laird boosts his spirits every morning by tying his tie in front of a mirror framed to look like the cover of Time magazine.

The bottom of the mirror bears the inscription "Man of the year."

Ashland Has Replaced Lamar Tech

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Ashland (Ohio) College found a perfect way to celebrate its rise to No. 1 ranking among the nation's small college basketball team. The Eagles accepted a bid to the NCAA Midwest Regional College Division Tournament.

Ashland, which replaced Lamar Tech at the top of The Associated Press' weekly poll Wednesday, agreed to host the Midwest regional March 7-8.

Joining Ashland in the tournament was Cheney (Pa.) State, No. 16, the team Ashland beat in the first round last year.

Ashland, the top defensive team in the country with a 20-1 record through last Saturday, received five first place votes and 289 points from a 21-man national panel.

Lamar, 17-2, fell to fourth after losing to Trinity, Tex., 83-69. Fairmont W.Va., 21-1, climbed from fourth to second with two top votes and 244 points. Kentucky Wesleyan, which won the NCAA tournament last year, remained third with 206 points.

Trinity moved from sixth to fifth followed by Southwestern, La.; Stephen F. Austin, Howard Payne, South Dakota State and South Carolina State.

Howard Payne rocketed from 14th to eighth and South Carolina State sprung from 19th to 10th as the new teams in the Top Ten. They replaced Long Beach State, which fell from eighth to 11th, and U. of Nevada-Las Vegas, which plummeted from 10th to 17th.

Pro Leagues Schedule More Games

By JACK HAND

Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Pending a final decision on the shape of the merged pro football leagues in 1970 at the annual meetings in March, it is apparent that the trend is toward more inter-league exhibition games for 1969. Regular season inter-league games are expected to start in 1970.

The San Diego Chargers recently announced their pre-season schedule of five games, only one of which will be played against another American Football League team. The Chargers will play four National Football League teams, all at home. The NFL foes will be Baltimore, Aug. 2, New Orleans, Aug. 9, Cleveland, Aug. 23 and Los Angeles, Aug. 30. The lone AFL team will be Oakland, Aug. 16.

Chuck Noll's departure from Baltimore to take the head coaching job with the Pittsburgh Steelers opened the way for Bobby Boyd to step out of the active ranks and onto the coaching staff with the Colts.

Boyd, the balding partner of John Unitas in a Baltimore restaurant, has been an all-league cornerback several times.

Allergist Should Find Cause of Giant Hives

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.

Q—I have had angioneurotic edema of my lips for four years. The attacks come on suddenly and are very upsetting because in my job I have to meet the public. I am taking Librium three times a day. It doesn't help much. Is there anything better?

A—A careful examination by an allergist should help you to find the cause of your giant hives and eliminate it. Just because your diagnosis contains the word "neurotic" doesn't mean that taking a tranquilizer will cure you.

Q—When I handle ice cubes I get a severe itching in my hands. Could this be an allergy to cold?

A—It could be a physical allergy to cold or a mild case of chilblain. You'd better wear gloves when you handle ice.

Q—I am a girl, 19. Is there any age limit on the Roman slimming method you described in a recent column? Do the injections of human chorionic gonadotropin (HCG) cause any bad side effects? How long does it take to get all 40 injections? Is exercise, such as jogging or swimming, permitted while on this diet? Following this diet how long would it take to lose 25 pounds?

A—Although Dr. Simeon's

treatment finds its greatest appeal for women in their late 30s and early 40s, it is suitable for adults of any age. No undesirable side effects have been reported when the injections are given as directed but too large a dose in female adolescents or young adults may have a virilizing effect—hair on the face, acne, menstrual irregularity and deepening of the voice.

The duration of the treatment varies—five or six weeks is the average. Exercise is permitted after the first seven to 10 days. Those who strictly adhere to the method may lose from eight to 24 ounces a day but should not lose more than 35 pounds in any six-week period.

Q—I am told that doctors have varied opinions about the Roman slimming method. What are the pros and cons?

A—Some doctors are skeptical about the value of the injections of HCG and some claim to have tried the method without success. To be successful, the method must be carried out exactly as originally described. Failures have been shown to be due to modifications. The chief advantages of the plan are that it enables a person to adhere to a low-calorie diet without being hungry and that those who follow it seem to lose fat in the places where they are most anxious to lose it.

Finds Mother After 21 Long Years

PALMDALE, Calif. (AP) — With the help of the federal government William Littleton, 23, has found the mother he last saw 21 years ago.

His mother, Mrs. Howard Sneed of San Diego, sent her 2-year-old son to live with his paternal grandparents when she was separated from his father in 1948.

Littleton began a search for her six years ago and finally sought the aid of the Social Security Administration, which forwarded his letter to Mrs. Sneed.

She called him on the phone and said "Bill, this is your mother."

"I was flabbergasted," she said Tuesday. "I've been walking around in a daze."

We can't give full approval to South's three no-trump call. Somehow or other, when we pick up two good four-card major suits, we like to bid at least one of them at some stage of the bidding but the final contract was normal.

South ducked the club lead on general principles. Sometimes your opponents shift to something you like better, but West continued with the jack. South was on lead and promptly played his nine of diamonds. West covered with the jack and South played low from dummy. Since diamonds broke 3-2, South wound up with an overtrick at his game contract.

"Horseshoes," mumbled West. "If you had gone after hearts as you should have, you would have gone down. Suppose diamonds hadn't broken nicely for you?"

"I might still have made the hand," replied South. "I would have led a high diamond after getting in with my last good club and discarded a heart on dummy's second high diamond. Then I would have tried the spade finesse. If East had started with either the singleton or doubleton spade to the king, I would have still made my contract. My play had to be the best percentage."

South was right. The alternate line of play would be to win the first diamond and take the spade finesse. This would produce nine tricks any time East held the king of spades, or if spades broke 3-3. This represented a 68 per cent chance.

By a coincidence, the chance that a suit will break 3-2 is also 68 per cent. But the diamond play allowed the additional chance that one spade lead from dummy might produce three spade tricks. That isn't much of a chance but it is better than nothing and the winning bridge play should always give the player the best chance. He won't always be right, but he will be right often enough to win.

Musical instruments not only make beautiful sounds, they are objects of great beauty in themselves. The World Almanac notes. Look closely at a cello. Physicists can describe it as four catgut strings stretched the length of a carved wooden box, producing sound when scraped with a horsehair bow. Moving GI Families Takes Loot, Labor

AN ASSET with his 22 years of service, M. Sgt. Ken Gubert is also a problem for the Army. In addition to wife Peggy, the Gubert family package includes eight kids and 5,600 pounds of household equipment. The Army is committed to transporting it all, across oceans and continents, wherever Gubert goes.

By TOM TIEDE
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

HEIDELBERG, Germany—(NEA)—Nobody likes to admit it here but M. Sgt. Ken Gubert, 22 years in the Army, is a problem.

No, he's an excellent soldier—obedient, sober, enthusiastic, hard working, law abiding, loyal and dependable. The problem is his wife—and those eight kids.

The Army doesn't talk much about the situation. It simply classifies Sgt. Gubert's family (and every other military family) as "moral necessities," and lets it go at that.

But the thing is, almost anywhere Sgt. Gubert is assigned in the world, his family will follow. Thus the Army is saddled with extra work, extra worry and extra expense. In short, Sgt. Gubert's flock—and all such families—are an Army burden.

Europe is probably the best illustration. The Army has more than 60,000 military families on the Continent today (some unauthorized). They include more than 145,000 dependents, the majority of them children.

Each assigned family is authorized so many pounds of personal and household goods to be shipped at government responsibility. In Sgt. Gubert's case, the total poundage was 5,600: radio, phonograph, car, lamps, washer, dryer, television, sewing machine, six bicycles, dishes, clothing and on and on.

Some families have brought even more: favorite sofas, fish tanks, model train platforms, refrigerators, doghouses. All of it is packed, crated and hauled by U.S. soldiers on both sides of the ocean, who do nothing else but moving work.

And if the moving is elaborate, so is the expense. No one at Army headquarters in Heidelberg will estimate the cost, but when personal transportation (by air charter) is included, observers believe the per-month drain is millions.

Transportation is only part of the bill. Once in Europe the dependents must be housed and equipped. Homes must be ready. Whole staffs work at this at every base. They supervise some 50,000 such billets.

Schools must be available. In Europe, the Army has 124 elementary, 39 junior high and 33 senior high schools.

Also, base facilities must be able to handle family needs: PXs, theaters, laundries, churches, even teen shops.

In Europe, of course, most of the ground work for Army family living was completed years ago. The initial expense for buildings and furnishings is therefore history.

But maintenance liability continues and grows. The estimate is that a whole division of personnel is tied up with dependent maintenance. Five thousand alone, for example, are employed to teach 100,000 Army schoolchildren.

Yet, with it all, the Army keeps smiling. Few in authority will even voice slight concern with the "dependent" crush.

Nobody, it's explained, wants a squabble. "Wives want to be wanted," says a colonel who refuses to be identified. "If I admit there is a dependent problem, they'll think I don't want them here. God, would I hear it then."

"Realistically speaking, I think dependents are excess baggage. For several reasons. Let's just take one—war. Say the Russians suddenly brought a dozen divisions into West Germany."

"Can you imagine the calamity? Here's a man with a family and he's told to forget them and report immediately."

"Here's a family in a strange country, out of touch, in the way, loaded down with two tons of household belongings."

"And here's the Army, in the Third World War, and it has to stop everything to haul 150,000 wives and kids back home."

For its part, the U.S. Army says it is more than willing to carry out all the responsibilities of dependent-keeping, even in the event of war. And the official viewpoint on military families remains resolutely the same: They are, come what may, part of the whole show.

The Army feels the viewpoint is a sound one. It believes its families cannot be tampered with, whatever the price. As one officer puts it: "Take M. Sgt. Gubert. I'd hate like hell to be the one to tell his eight kids to stay home."

Students Enrolled by Force

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A group of students forced an administrator to enroll them "under threat of physical violence" at San Francisco State College, the chancellor of California state colleges indicates.
Gov. Ronald Reagan had disclosed the incident previously but refused to say which campus was involved. Chancellor Glenn S. Dumke hinted Tuesday it was San Francisco State.
Dumke said 38 or 40 students forced their way into the administrators' office and "duress" was applied which resulted in his admitting a group of students which he, perhaps, would not have. Neither Dumke nor Reagan would detail the incident.
However, when asked if the illegally enrolled students are still on the campus, Dumke said "My unofficial understanding is that some turned out all right and some of them did not. The condition at that college prior to Dr. Hayakawa's coming was in some state of confusion." Dr. S. I. Hayakawa was named acting president of San Francisco State last December.

This Is Story of the Bridge That Missed

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The story of the bridge that missed came to light Tuesday. It's a 600-foot span that was supposed to carry Interstate 79 across a valley in suburban Collier Township.
But state highway officials say the bridge is 13 feet out of line with connecting ramps and roadways, halting all construction.
"It's a nasty situation," said a highways department spokesman. "It's probably the worst mess we've ever faced."
The error was detected by an engineer for the W. P. Dickerson, Co., the subcontractor handling construction.

"We were putting in the bridge piers when one of our engineers noticed that they didn't seem to be in line with a huge rock cut being made at the south end of the project," said John McCasick, an official of the firm.
Surveyors were called in and they made a "terrific discovery," said McCasick. "It was confirmed that the bridge was lining up as much as 13 feet out of kilter with base lines established for the roadway."
Work on the project was stopped and engineers have gone to work to redesign ramps and roadways.
A highway spokesman said two private consultants drew up plans for the bridge and roadway, and the blueprints didn't match.
"It's a mathematical error that can be rectified," he said.

Thursday, February 20, 1969
"It can happen to anybody. Engineers are only human, you know."

Students Enrolled by Force LOS ANGELES (AP) — A group of students forced an administrator to enroll them "under threat of physical violence" at San Francisco State College, the chancellor of California state colleges indicates. Gov. Ronald Reagan had disclosed the incident previously but refused to say which campus was involved. Chancellor Glenn S. Dumke hinted Tuesday it was San Francisco State. Dumke said 38 or 40 students forced their way into the administrators' office and "duress" was applied which resulted in his admitting a group of students which he, perhaps, would not have. Neither Dumke nor Reagan would detail the incident. However, when asked if the illegally enrolled students are still on the campus, Dumke said "My unofficial understanding is that some turned out all right and some of them did not. The condition at that college prior to Dr. Hayakawa's coming was in some state of confusion." Dr. S. I. Pussycat
New Martin Record
Anatomy of a Tale

I nvelerate reader of the Gaieties column in the Great Northern Railway magazine Goat is L. Carter Johnson, and he reports Goat butted him with this one:

The tomatcat and the tabbycat met on the backyard fence and the tomatcat purred:

"I'd give my life for you,"
Returned the tabbycat:
"How many times?"

C.H. Wilson's report, as told in this column Feb. 14, that the first purple martin arrived at his Fulton box Feb. 8 is a new record for all Arkansas.

I discovered this today after receiving a report from Mrs. A.A. Halbert, 404 S. Walker St., that a single martin arrived at her boxes Feb. 17, and another on Feb. 19. I discussed this with Mrs. J. Manuel Hamm of the local Audubon Society and she called my attention to the significance of Mr. Wilson's Feb. 8 report.

According to the Arkansas Audubon Society's records, Mrs. Hamm reports, the earliest previous martin arrival was Feb. 10. Mr. Wilson's Fulton report of Feb. 8 is being forwarded to Little Rock as a new state record.

A television gag Wednesday night started me checking the anatomy of a tale. The TV story was told by Roger Miller on the CBS Glen Campbell Hour. It went like this:

The cowboys found an Indian lying in the road, but when they sought to pick him up he protested: "Be quiet — I'm listening," with his ear to the ground. "I hear," he said, "four horses... and a stage-coach... in the front seat a man and a woman... and in the back seat a small boy... holding a birthday cake..."

"How do you know all this?" exclaimed the cowboys.
"It's easy," said the Indian.
"They ran over me four hours ago..."

But most jokes are rewrites of gags truly ancient. Fifty years ago my old home town of Wilkes-Barre, Pa., had a witty banquet speaker who later became mayor, Con McCole. Con used to tell about the old Indian Wars scout who regaled his grandchildren with frontier tales. Said the old scout:

"There was this here desert in Arizona and a thousand Apaches were after my scalp. I galloped my horse ahead of them all day, and toward dusk reached what I thought was the safety of the mountains. Rock walls rose to the left and to the right of me, and a thousand hostiles waved their tomahawks behind me, and I galloped on. The canyon walls rose a thousand feet on my left, and a thousand feet on my right, with an army of hostiles behind looking for my scalp. Suddenly I came to the end, a rock wall a thousand feet high—I was trapped in a box canyon, and the hostiles began sharpening their tomahawks..."

"My goodness," cried the children, "what happened, grandpa?"

"Why, you dern fools," snapped grandpa, "they killed me of course."

Six Organs From Donor in Transplant

NEW YORK (AP)—Teams of surgeons removed six organs from a single donor Wednesday night and early today. The heart, liver and both kidneys were transplanted to four recipients and two corneas were being held for use.

The four recipients were reported doing well at midday by the two hospitals where the series of operations were performed.

The two New York hospitals said the operations involved the largest number of organs ever removed from one person for immediate use. Some of them were carried a city block from one hospital to the other.

One cornea was scheduled for implantation later today, a spokesman said, but it was uncertain when the second would be used.

3 Tobacco Tax Measures Are Passed

By ED SHEARER
Associated Press Writer
LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—The Arkansas House provided Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller a flicker of hope for his tax package Wednesday when the lower chamber passed three tobacco tax measures.

The action came only hours after the governor, addressing a joint session of the General Assembly, warned lawmakers they may meet defeat at the polls if they failed to raise money to provide additional state services.

However, the three bills must receive the endorsement of the Senate before Rockefeller can chalk up what $11 million of the $90 million he is seeking in new revenue.

The tobacco package included an increase of five cents per package in the cigarette tax, a 15 per cent excise tax on the wholesale price of cigars and a 15 per cent excise tax on the wholesale price of smoking tobacco, chewing tobacco and snuff.

Although the most debate came on the two 15 per cent measures, both passed easily since they needed only 51 votes for passage. It took two roll calls to approve the cigarette measure.

It appears that the Senate will

Thinks Early Success Can Hold Person Back for Several Years

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP)—Happy days are here for Tom Courtenay, a handsome young blue-eyed English actor whose unruly brown hair and sideburns look like a nest built by a near-sighted robin.

"But early success can hold you back for years," said Tom, who at 31 is already fortune's darling, hailed alike by both critics and producers as one of the most talented performers of his generation.

"You may get afraid of making a fool of yourself, and feel you have to win everytime. That can hurt you."

"Anything you try is a tremendous experience, and you learn from it. At the least you find out what you can't do—and that's worth knowing."

Courtenay has made only nine films—his latest is "Oliver," a comedy thriller—but they include such highly praised ones as "The Loneliness of the Long-Distance Runner," "Doctor Zhivago," "Billy Liar," and "King and Country," which won him the top acting award at the 1964 Venice Film Festival.

Tom, who has a merry heart but an introspective mind, grew up in Hull, a drab Yorkshire fishing port where the people live at the quixotic mercy of the sea. He is deeply grateful for the sacrifices his parents made to educate him.

Pentagon Spends $4 Million Annually for Lobby Force of 339

By HARRY KELLY
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Defense Department is spending $4 million a year on a lobbying force of 339—more than one for every two members of Congress—to keep the congressmen happy, argue the armed forces' point of view, and feed the Pentagon information about what's happening on Capitol Hill.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield called it "an over-large establishment" and added in an interview:

"It appears to me that admirals and colonels could be used to better purpose and effect, and while I personally appreciate the great assistance which they have rendered I think the same amount of assistance could be accomplished with fewer personnel."

Defense officials say the big legislative liaison force is necessary because of growing demands from and upon members of Congress, including an "astronomical number" of written and telephoned inquiries from their constituents.

While some Pentagon critics see it as further evidence of expanding military influence, defense officials insist there's no cause for concern that the weight of such a disciplined legislative effort might tip the scales in favor of the military's position in a Senate or House

Corruption in Aid to Vietnamese

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate investigators, reporting "shocking disclosures of widespread corruption" in a U.S.-Vietnam aid program, now plan a worldwide look at American overseas assistance.

Sen. John McClellan, D-Ark., chairman of the Investigations Subcommittee, said today the global review was needed to "eliminate and prevent the un-economic, illegal and corrupt practices by which taxpayers' dollars have been siphoned."

He commented in submitting to the Senate a report of the subcommittee's two-year investigation of the commodity-import program in Vietnam. Among its findings:

"Dishonesty and fraud involving kickbacks, ineligible commissions, excessive and exorbitant prices, shipments of products without value or utility and violations of U.S. or South Vietnamese regulations."

— Diversion of American dollars to bank accounts, in Switzerland and elsewhere, of South Vietnamese importers, with an adverse effect on the U.S. balance of payments.

McClellan also noted that the Agency for International Development, which administers the foreign-aid program, had cooperated in the investigation and had acted to correct abuses uncovered.

At the same time, McClellan faulted the agency for what he said was "failure to act swiftly and decisively" when some of the abuses were first disclosed.

Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., a member of the investigations subcommittee, said in a minority report that, while extensive improprieties were uncovered in Vietnam, the disclosures "led to major corrective action by AID or to indictment of wrongdoers."

Would Force Integration in North

TEXARKANA, Ark. (AP) — Dr. Mitchell Young of Texarkana, president of Freedom, Inc., says the strategy of the organization in its fight to keep the freedom of choice plan of school desegregation is to force the North to integrate along with the South.

The organization's chapters in 21 states will urge congressmen to pressure the Nixon administration for equal treatment in school desegregation matters, Young said in an interview.

The physician said if this is done, the rebellion by white parents in the North will swing the balance of popular support "right quick" to the side of Freedom, Inc.

There he is, girls—fair game.

Wounded in War Passes 200,000 Mark

SAIGON (AP) — The total number of Americans wounded in the Vietnam war has passed the 200,000 mark.

The U.S. Command said today 197 Americans were killed in action last week, and 1,103 were wounded. This brought the total number of American combat dead since Jan. 1, 1961, to 31,759 and the total wounded to 200,792.

The number of dead was the second highest of the year but roughly average for recent months. The week before 183 U.S. servicemen were killed.

South Vietnamese officials issued no casualty figures, and a spokesman said the weekly report had not been prepared yet because of delays. He did not explain, but presumably celebration of the Tet Lunar new year festival was responsible.

The U.S. Command said that in the week ending Feb. 15, 2,549 enemy soldiers were killed last week, bringing the total for the war to 447,356. The week before the total had been 2,264, and the U.S. Command increased it today to 2,467 on the basis of later reports.

A total of 8,808 Americans have been reported killed since the preliminary peace talks began in Paris last May 13, and 1,702 since South Vietnam joined the expanded talks on Dec. 7.

Tax Reform Hit by Ford Foundation

By EDMOND LeBRETON
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The head of the gigantic Ford Foundation said today proposals to restrict the stock holdings of foundations might impede several social action programs his institution is considering.

McGeorge Bundy also said the proposal to limit foundation holdings to more than 20 per cent of the stock of any one company would have prevented establishment of the Ford Foundation and several others.

His remarks came in prepared testimony before the House Ways and Means Committee, which is studying the tax-exempt position of foundations as part of a general review of the federal tax code.

If the limit were imposed now, Bundy said, programs now under consideration by Ford to stimulate business in ghettos, provide jobs in the South and assist construction of integrated housing might be impeded.

Before heading the Ford Foundation, Bundy was a special assistant to President Johnson.

However, Bundy told the committee, the Ford Foundation, which is worth $3.5 billion, hopes as a matter of "prudent investment policy" to reduce its holdings of Ford Motor Co. stock to less than 20 per cent of the firm's total stock by 1971.

The foundation was started with a gift of 90 per cent of the auto company's stock.

Rain, Cooler Weather Is Predicted

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Rain is expected to spread eastward across Arkansas tonight and Friday but cooler weather should move into the state by Friday afternoon.

A complex storm located in eastern Colorado this morning is expected to push eastwards and produce the moisture.

The cooler weather will result from a cold front which should push into the western portion of the state by Friday afternoon.

Mild temperatures and mostly sunny skies were enjoyed in Arkansas Wednesday, with afternoon temperatures in the low and mid 50s.

Overnight low temperatures ranged from 30 at Fort Smith to 43 at Texarkana and El Dorado. No rainfall was reported during the 24-hour period ended at 6 a.m.

7 Young Iraqis, All Moslems, Executed for Spying for Israel

By FAROUK NASSAR
Associated Press Writer

DAMASCUS, Syria (AP) — Iraq executed seven young men as spies for Israel today, but there were no Jews among them and the bodies were not put on display until after the executions.

Israel was expected to issue a denial of any complicity, but it appeared unlikely that there would be a repetition of the storm of foreign protests which followed the public execution last month of nine Iraqi Jews and five Moslems as spies for the Jewish nation.

Baghdad Radio canceled regular programs this morning and broadcast repeated announcements of the executions in what appeared to be an invitation to crowds to go to the capital's Liberation Square, where the bodies were hanging.

The seven Iraqi Moslems, all between 19 and 24 years of age, were condemned after a three-week trial before Iraq's revolution.

Many State Schools Idled by Influenza

By PETE YOUNG
Associated Press Writer

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — "Everybody's got a cold" was the explanation Dr. J.T. Herron, state health officer, offered Wednesday for the outbreak of influenza that has caused a dozen school districts in the state to close in recent weeks.

More than 12,000 students from Texarkana to Fayetteville have been dismissed from classes for several days at a time recently because of excessive absenteeism blamed on the flu bug.

Herron said there is no indication of an influenza epidemic, however, and "in most instances, dismissing classes is unjustified."

Most of the sickness, Herron said, probably results from respiratory ailments, head colds, sinus trouble, sore throats "and no telling what else."

The health officer said if the reported illnesses were caused by influenza and the classes dismissed, those not sick likely would "congregate at homes, in the streets, pool halls and everywhere else and catch it anyway."

The best way to arrest influenza, Herron said, is to keep the children in classes and if one appears to be coming down with an illness send him to a doctor for treatment.

In the military, soldiers are assigned buddies and if one begins to develop signs of illness such as a cold, sore throat or cough, the other reports him to officials for proper treatment, Herron said.

Cong Forces Moving in to Attack Saigon

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. military advisers said today the Viet Cong have more forces now for an attack on Saigon and the provinces around it than they had for the big Tet offensive a year ago.

The American officers conceded they were uncertain when, where or if the Communist command would launch its long anticipated big push. But they said captured documents and prisoners of war still point to an offensive in the 3rd Corps Area, which is made up of Saigon and 11 provinces around it.

Assessing the current military situation around the capital, the analysts said either the enemy has not been able to get his troops, munitions and food supplies into position because of U.S. and South Vietnamese spoiling actions, or he is awaiting advice from Hanoi's diplomats at the Paris peace talks.

"The enemy's over-all strength in 3rd Corps has increased about 7,500 over the last 13 months to 65,000," said one source. About 20,000 to 30,000 of these are considered assault troops, the rest support forces. The total includes several thousand operating from bases just across the border in Cambodia who move in and out of South Vietnam at will and are within easy striking distance of Saigon.

The allies have roughly 50,000 combat infantrymen in the area.

At least one of four North Vietnamese divisions in the 3rd Corps Area is said to be moving into attack positions through War Zone D northeast of Saigon. Three other divisions remain about where they were a month ago, along the Cambodian border west, northwest and north of Saigon.

One analyst said this disposition of enemy forces suggests assaults on outlying areas rather than on Saigon itself, at least in the initial phases of any offensive. The most likely initial targets appear to be Tay Ninh City, northwest of Saigon, and the big American bases at Long Binh, Bien Hoa and Lai Khe, north and northeast of the capital.

Israel Hawks Are Held in Obedience

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Israel's hawks today held in abeyance their demands for retaliation for the latest Arab attack on an Israeli airliner. They awaited the outcome of calls from their government and that of the United States for international action to protect civil aviation.

Defense Minister Moshe Dayan, one of the more militant members of the Israeli cabinet, told a closed meeting at the Weizman Institute of Science Wednesday night that Israel must be restrained and let the diplomats fight their battles for the moment. But reliable sources said he warned Israel's Arab neighbors.

MEAT COOKERY Quiz

Q. What is the name of this meat?
A. Liver. The largest one at the top is beef, then reading clockwise, the smallest one next to it is lamb; veal is next, and then pork, the second largest.

Q. How are they identified?
A. By size primarily, as indicated above.

Q. How are they prepared?
A. Beef and pork liver may be sliced and fried, braised or roasted whole. Veal and lamb liver may be broiled, pan-broiled or fried. Peel or trim membrane on liver before cooking. Liver is sometimes precooked, then ground and mixed for loaves, patties or croquettes. To precook, slowly pan-fry in two to three tablespoons of lard or drippings for about five minutes. For braising, dredge in flour, brown slowly in fat, then add about one-fourth cup of liquid, cover tightly and cook slowly 20 to 30 minutes. For broiling, have liver sliced three-fourths of an inch thick or less. Dip in melted fat. Broil three minutes.

What would you use for frosting a ham slice? Try apple butter made tangy with grated orange rind, says Reba Staggs, meat authority with the National Live Stock and Meat Board.

Christopher Columbus was responsible for introducing the rum industry into the West Indies, according to the Encyclopaedia Britannica.

Red Cinnamon Candies Give Color, Sparkle To Apples in Dumplings

An old-fashioned oven dessert provides a welcome finale to dinner. With apples in season, it's timely to prepare a baked fruit dumpling to serve with a pretty pink sauce.

Biscuit-type dough is rolled one-eighth inch thick and cut into five-inch squares to enclose baking apples. The dough will be tender and flaky when made with lard, advises Reba Staggs, home economist with the National Live Stock and Meat Board.

Apple dumplings are really glorified baked apples since they're made with sliced apples, wrapped in a biscuit blanket. Select apples that bake well. Among these are Baldwin, Early Harvest, McIntosh, Roman Beauty, Northern Spy and Winesap varieties.

When drawing the biscuit square up to cover the apples, make certain the dough is large enough to cover the fruit without stretching.

Prick the top surface of the dough just as you would an apple pie so steam can escape.

Red cinnamon candies add color and spice to both apples and accompanying sauce. The warm dumplings, topped with sauce provide one of the most heart-warming desserts of the season.

Cinnamon Apple Dumplings
3 cups sifted flour
1 1/2 teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
6 to 8 teaspoons lard
1 to 1 cup apples
5 to 6 large apples, pared and sliced
1 tablespoon red cinnamon candies
1/2 cup sugar
3 tablespoons butter or margarine

Sift together flour, baking powder and salt. Cut in lard until mixture has fine even crumb. Add enough milk to make a soft dough. Knead 30 seconds. Roll to 1/8-inch thickness. Cut into 5-inch squares. Combine apples with cinnamon candies and sugar. Fill

East Germans Halt Traffic for 2 Hours

BERLIN (AP) — East German border guards halted traffic through West Berlin's main entrance to the autobahn for two hours today, then began letting cars through again, West Berlin police reported.

Traffic through other checkpoints on the roads between West Berlin and West Germany was delayed, with long lines of cars and trucks piling up. But it was not stopped.

It could not be determined how much of the delay was due to the new regulations and how much to the snow on the highways.

Traffic on the autobahns has been delayed since Feb. 15, when the East Germans imposed new restrictions on the surface routes to West Berlin in retaliation for the West German government's plan to hold its presidential election in West Berlin March 5.

The new regulations ban the more than 1,000 members of the electoral assembly from using the surface routes, along with other persons concerned with the election and all members of the West German armed forces. Since then the East German guards have been carefully checking all cars and trucks making the 110-mile trip to the Communist-surrounded city, ostensibly to enforce the new regulations.

At Helmstedt, the crossing point between West and East Germany on the autobahn to Frankfurt, a West German border officer said the East Germans were processing only 10 cars an hour compared to a normal 60 an hour.

The United States, Britain and France, which still administer West Berlin as the last remnant of the World War II occupation, protested to the Soviet Union against the new East German restrictions, but the Soviets have backed the East German regime as they always do.

Condemned Slayer Appeals Death Penalty

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
WASHINGTON (AP) — Condemned slayer Richard F. Speck says he shouldn't be put to death because 50 prospective jurors were excused from his trial because they objected to capital punishment.

Speck, 27, convicted of killing eight nurses in a Chicago dormitory in 1966, filed his appeal to the U.S. Supreme Court Tuesday.

The appeal, made through a court decision last June forbidding execution of William C. Witherspoon, who had been convicted of killing a Chicago policeman in 1960. In that case the court said no death sentence would be valid if returned by a jury screened to eliminate persons with conscientious objections to the death penalty.

Speck's appeal also argues that capital punishment should be abolished, that adverse publicity before the trial prejudiced jurors, and that the trial should have been held in two stages, providing a separate opportunity for his defense based on insanity.

Speck had been sentenced to die Jan. 31. He received a stay giving him until Feb. 20 to file the Supreme Court appeal.

Byerly Turk
The Byerly Turk was the famous stallion which, along with the Darley Arabian and the Godolphin Arabian, was imported into England and started the "thoroughbred" line of horses.

OUT GOES THE OLD and in comes the new applies to art as well as administrations with the changing of the political guard in Washington. Except in this case, the old in art came in with the new in politics. Abstract painting, above, by American artist Paul Jenkins hung for three years in the White House while a family named Johnson was in residence. Now that the Nixons have moved in, it has been replaced by "The Continentals," right, painted by Frank B. Mayer in 1875.

Squabble Over Plane Payment Is Raging

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The state Aeronautics Commission voted at a secret meeting Feb. 7 to make two more $1,000 lease-rental payments on its controversial $36,000 airplane, it was learned Tuesday.

Robert J. Webb of Little Rock, chairman of the commission, admitted Tuesday that the commission had held "just a quick meeting" Feb. 7 and had voted to update the lease payments on the plane.

A contract on the plane was voided by the commission Jan. 10 after it was learned the plane was worth about $21,000 and the commission was paying $36,000 for it.

However, the commission amended its minutes Jan. 20 to show that it only had stopped the $1,000 monthly payments. Webb said the payments were continued afterward to protect the commission's $19,000 investment in the plane.

"We just voted to bring the lease payments up to date," he said.

Rep. Sterling R. Cockrill Jr. of Little Rock had requested cancellation of the contract on the plane after Atty. Gen. Joe Purcell issued an opinion Dec. 26, saying the purchase had to be made through formal bidding to be legal. The commission did not take formal bids on the plane.

Cockrill said Tuesday that the attorney general's office had declared Feb. 7 that the contract came under the purchasing laws of Arkansas.

"That's the way it stands as far as I'm concerned," Cockrill said. "Until they take bids, they can't proceed to make payments."

Cockrill said he would "make his feelings" known to the Joint Budget Committee, which is now considering budgets for various state agencies. There has been some talk among legislators of drastically cutting the Aeronautics Commission appropriation or eliminating the commission altogether.

Tisha and Hubby Tangle With UFOs

By DICK KLEINER
NEA Hollywood Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD (NEA)

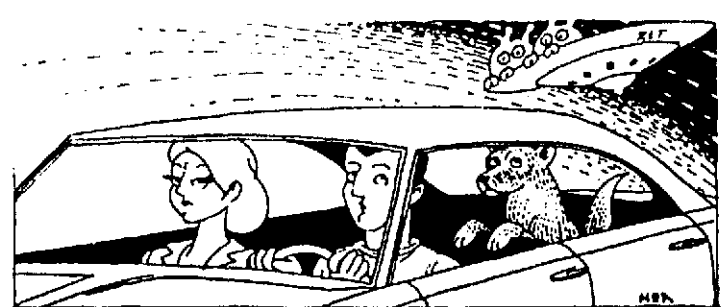

We can now say something definitive about the flying saucer people—they have good taste in girls. Tisha Sterling says they're after her.

Tisha is a lovely little blonde, Ann Sothern's daughter, who is one of the stars of "The Experiment" on CBS Playhouse Feb. 25. It's probably the best part she has had so far.

But an even better part is her real life battle with the saucer people. She and her husband, Lal Baum, have gone UFO (Unidentified Flying Object) hunting out in the desert, near Joshua Tree, several times. And their search has often been rewarded, she says.

Once they saw a large circle of lights—on the ground. The ship, for that was what it must have been, she says, was about 35 feet across. The lights pulsed, dimmed and brightened.

They climbed up a nearby hill for a better look, passing, as they climbed, a high tension pole. When they came back down again, the pole had vanished—but the wires were still there.

Their big black shepherd dog was in a trance in the back seat of their car—eyes open, but not moving. They began driving away, but something took control of their car. Lal couldn't work the brakes, the accelerator, the steering wheel—yet the car zoomed down the mountain, negotiating all the curves, at 45 miles per hour.

"For 18 miles," Tisha claims, "they had control of our car. I don't know where they were taking us, but Lal struggled and eventually got control back. I know they were trying to contact us, but we were just too frightened to go along with them."

Tisha's acting career is hardly that exciting, yet it's coming along. She isn't the most ambitious thing around. "I don't want to stay in this business very long," she says. "I want to do a few things I'm proud of, then go somewhere else to live—maybe Europe. I want to help people. I'd love to go to Biafra now and help them, but I can't with a husband and a baby."

And the folks in the saucers might not like it, either.

Director Andre DeToth has been around movies for more than 35 years. And he says that today's movie audience is the best the business has ever had.

"The 16-to-29-year-olds who make up the bulk of the audience," he says, "are intelligent and eager to be entertained. But they won't go for 'nothing' pictures—they have to have films with story and a substance."

DeToth's latest is "Play Dirty," with Michael Caine. It is, he believes, "an honest antiwar picture."

"But it doesn't have a message," he says. "I leave the messages to Western Union—they're good at messages."

It was shot in Almeria, Spain, one of the busiest movie locations in the world. When "Play Dirty" was there, it was one of eight movies being shot at the same time in the same place.

DeToth, who used to work exclusively in Hollywood, now finds himself operating all over the world in the search for what he calls "geographical honesty."

"The public demands it," he says. "You can't fool them today as we used to do. We'd use the same set and dress it differently and call it Hong Kong one day and Paris the next."

"But today's public has been there, been everywhere. Millions of Americans go to Europe every year. You can't fool them. You have to show things truthfully."

Graham Comes to Terms

SAN DIEGO (AP) — San Diego Charger safety Kenny Graham, who played out his option last season, has agreed to terms for 1969, the American Football League team announced Monday.

Graham, who will be starting his sixth season as a Charger, would have become a free agent April 1 if he had not signed a new contract. Terms are not disclosed.

Engan Takes Lead in Bowling Meet

PARAMUS, N.J. (AP) — Ralph Engan, Monsey, N.Y., took a 20-pin lead after two rounds Wednesday of the Professional Bowlers Association $75,000 Cougar Open.

Engan had six-game blocks of 1,257 and 1,363 for a 2,620 total. Teata Semiz, River Edge, N.J., was next at 2,600.

Dick Weber of St. Louis was one pin behind Semiz at 2,599 while Don McCune of Munster, Ind., shot his third career 300-game in the evening sessions and also recorded the highest six-game block with a 1-408 series. His over-all total of 2,514 was good for a ninth place tie with afternoon leader Mike McGrath of El Cerrito, Calif.

The 168 man field will be cut to the top 64 after Thursday's opening session of six games.

SPACE-AGE SPACE SAVERS have freed a 12,000-square-foot area. Laeron Roberts, director of data processing for the North Carolina Department of Motor Vehicles, displays two small memory packs containing records on 2.7 million motor vehicles and 2.62 million drivers. These two units, called IBM data cells, have replaced paper-filled filing cabinets which once occupied six rooms this size. Roberts and his staff have developed a computer-based system to help handle 10,000 inquiries a day on drivers and vehicles while performing a variety of other duties.

Washington Birthday Cherry Meringue Pie

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food Editor

Myth or fact, the story that George Washington chopped down the family cherry tree is worth accepting because cherries make such beautiful pies for celebration.

A beautiful cherry meringue pie.

SPICY CHERRY MERINGUE PIE

1 baked (9-inch) margarine pastry shell
1 cup sugar
4 tablespoons cornstarch
2 (16- to 17-ounce) can cherries
Never-fail meringue
Cinnamon topping

Combine sugar and cornstarch in saucepan. Drain juice from cherries and blend with sugar mixture. Stir in cherries. Stirring constantly, boil 1 minute. Pour into pastry shell.

mixing bowl. Blend in 1/2-cup margarine until fine crumbs form. Sprinkle 2 tablespoons cold water over mixture while tossing to blend well. Press dough firmly into ball. Roll out to 12-inch circle on lightly floured board. Fit loosely into 9-inch pie pan. Trim 1/2-inch beyond rim. Flute edge. Prick and bake in 450-degree oven light golden brown.

Never-fail Meringue: Stir together 1 tablespoon each of cornstarch and water. Stir into 1/2-cup boiling water in saucepan. Boil 1 minute, stirring occasionally. Cover; cool. Beat 3 egg whites and a dash of salt until foamy. Add 6 tablespoons sugar, one at a time, beating well. Continue beating until stiff peaks form. Beat in cornstarch mixture.

Cinnamon Topping: Mix together 2 tablespoons sugar and 1/2-teaspoon cinnamon. (Newspaper Enterprise Assn.)

Sweet Potatoes Give Blanket To Pork Sausages

"What's for supper, Mom?" "Little links in blankets, that's what."

Those little links, of course, are pork sausages. The blankets are sweet potatoes or yams, ~~mashed and seasoned~~, used for covering pairs of the sausage. They have flavor harmony and are quickly made.

Cook the pork sausages in a frying-pan first, explains meat authority, Reba Staggs of the National Live Stock and Meat Board. Then cover each pair of sausages with a blanket of the sweet potatoes and bake to heat.

crumbs
1 tablespoon butter or margarine

Place sausage links in frying-pan, add 3 tablespoons water, cover tightly and cook 5 minutes. Remove cover and cook slowly until lightly browned. Drain sweet potatoes, mash and season with salt. Place sausage links in pairs in lightly greased roasting pan. Cover each pair with a rounded tablespoonful of mashed potatoes. Mix crumbs with butter or margarine. Sprinkle buttered crumbs over mashed potatoes and bake in a moderate oven (350°F.) about 15 minutes, or until heated through. 4 to 6 servings.

BRAISING BRINGS OUT FLAVOR in lamb riblets, cooked on top of the range. They're good with cauliflower and peas.

Sausage With Sweet Potato Blankets

1 pound pork sausage links
1 can (16 ounces) sweet potatoes or yams
1 tablespoon butter or margarine
1/4 teaspoon salt
1 cup commercial bread

Consumption Forecast

It's the season for appraisals, estimates and forecasts, as one year closes and another begins. Meat industry sources see their product consumed at the rate of about 180 pounds per person, up about two and one-half pounds over 1968.

Beef contributes 107 pounds to this meat-eating record, while pork consumption estimates run to 65.3 pounds. Veal and lamb, respectively, will total three and one-half pounds and three and four-fifths pounds.

Dreamy Delusion

If anyone indulges in dreaming ideal set-ups, it would probably include 1968 wages with 1935 prices along with those 1929 dividends and taxes as of 1900.
